

Everybody loves a good story, and this is a great one.

North Carolina Patriots at the Battle of Kings Mountain during the American Revolution

Overmountain Victory National Historic Trail

Preview or watch now at YouTube

Put history in its place. Step by step.

Free and Online

- 40-minute video tells the story with music, maps, artwork, and images of reenactors portraying 18th century backcountry militia and soldiers.
- Interactive online program allows for deeper, individual exploration of the story and the landscape on which it happened in the fall of 1780.

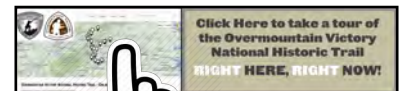

Click image above in PDF or find link at www.DanielBooneFootsteps.com

Follow in the footsteps of the Overmountain men and the backcountry militia during the American Revolution as they pursue British Major Patrick Ferguson who threatened to invade their homeland. The patriot victory at Kings Mountain turned the tide of the American Revolution.

To link to interactive online program, click this image in PDF or find this button at www.OVTA.org or www.danielboonefootsteps.com.

Prepare for the Revolution!

The 250th anniversary of the American Revolution begins now with the Stamp Act of 1765. And, as you know, April is the 240th anniversary of North Carolina being "First in Freedom" with the Halifax Resolves of April 12, 1776. So much to explore, so many reasons why.